Ends July 10, 2017*Welcome

We are pleased to invite you to SCIENION's two day workshop 'DIAGNOSTICS 7.0 - Innovative Solutions for Multiplexed Tests' to be held in Berlin, the city of living innovations on September 7th & 8th, 2017. The workshop is since years now an unique platform to encourage networking and collaborations.

With widespread coverage of relevant diagnostic topics with a focus on multiplex tests, the workshop promises to be an excellent event. Hear about new developments in the diagnostics market, future products and technologies as well as pre- and post-market considerations for a better understanding of the challenges involved in translating research outputs into human, veterinary and environmental diagnostic applications.
